

Agro-Processing Zones of Banteay Meanchey Province

Agriculture is an important sector in Banteay Meanchey province. Being 50% of Banteay Meanchey's population occupation, it has vast untapped potential for agro-processing activities. The province is suitable for a wide variety of agricultural process dues to its temperate climate and year-round rainfall. Map below shows the major potentials of agro-processing in the province according to the potential agricultural intensity (weight) in the province.

Agro-Processing Zones

Zone 1

This zone covers the majority of Thma Puok district which is on the North of the province.

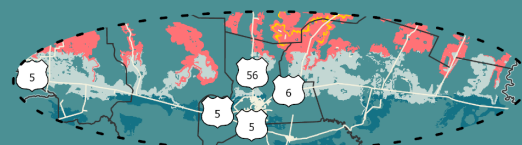

Zone 4

This agricultural zone covers a bulk of Mongkol Borei district which is on the South of the province.

Zone 2

This zone stretches across the four districts with the emphasis on Svay Chek district municipality.

Zone 3

This zone stretches across the central part of the province where major national road networks reside.

